

US MASTERS 2018

FANATICS TOUR

JUNE 2018

2018 US MASTERS

Join us at Augusta National in 2018 as we get behind the Aussies plus the rest of the world's best at the greatest golf tournament of them all, the US Masters.

EVENT: US MASTERS 2018
TOURNAMENT DATES: 5 - 8 APRIL 2018
VENUE: AUGUSTA NATIONAL GC
LOCATION: AUGUSTA GA, USA

THE EVENT

The inaugural Masters tournament in 1934 was known as the Augusta National Invitational before adopting its current name in 1939. Since then the status of the Masters Tournament, or US Masters as it's more commonly referred to, has grown to become the ultimate prize in golf and one of the most prestigious titles in world sport.

THE VENUE

The hallowed grounds of the Augusta National Golf Club provide the perfect backdrop for a tournament that is every bit as colourful as the azaleas that burst into flower to welcome the world every April. Indeed, the course was originally the site of a plant nursery and its heritage is ever present courtesy not only of its perfectly manicured fairways and gardens but also in the names of each of its magnificent 18 holes including Magnolia (5th), Camellia (10th) and Redbud (16th) to name just a few.

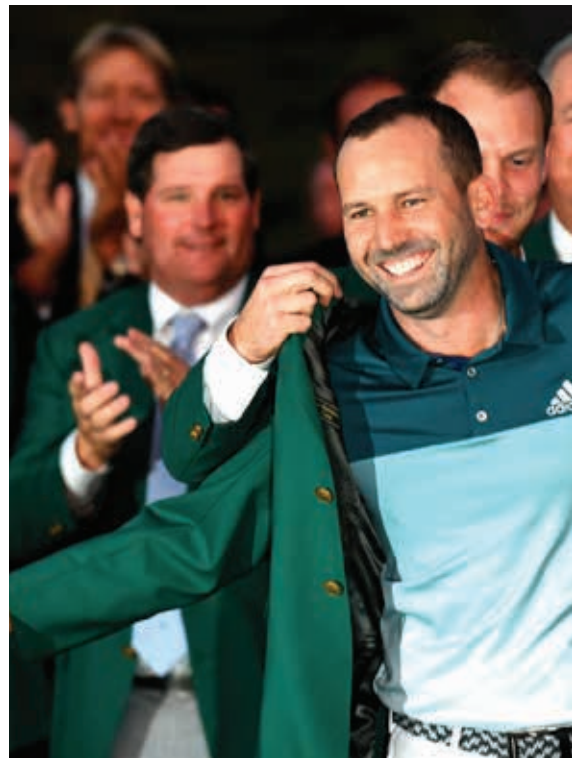

The tournament itself serves as testimony to both the old school traditions of the game plus that uncanny American ability to put on a spectacle that is larger than life. From the moment you set foot inside Augusta National you'll be mesmerised by its indelible beauty and palpable atmosphere. Starting with the antics of Wednesday's Par 3 Contest to the tension of the opening holes on Thursday and all the drama down the stretch on Sunday, the Masters unquestionably lives up to its fairytale-like reputation.

From a spectator perspective, the accommodating nature of the course's rolling terrain makes for incredible viewing on the vast majority of holes and ensures you get much more than just a fleeting glimpse of the game's best in action. It truly is an amphitheatre of dreams. The icing on the cake is the immaculate standard of services & conveniences around the course which are refreshingly devoid of the usual temporary feel that you'd normally associate with a golf tournament. And yet, surprisingly, food & beverage "concessions" serve up an array of fare at prices that will invariably make you blink twice...think beer $3, sandwiches $3, coffee $1, water $1.50. If it's not heaven, you can certainly see it from Augusta National!

If you're keen to experience the Masters book your place now then start preparing for your golfing trip of a lifetime.

US MASTERS

Each year more than 80 golf enthusiasts of all ages travel to the US Masters with Fanatics.

We enjoy a strong relationship with the USPGA Tour together with many of the game's greatest players both past & present. Our extensive background in the sports travel industry ensures we have access to the tournament's most reputable ticket & badge suppliers at highly competitive rates, meaning we can pass on those savings to you and provide much more bang for your hard earned buck.

FANATICS GOLF SUPPORT

Fanatics enjoy a very strong relationship with many of the world's elite players, past and present, as well as the game's governing bodies including the USPGA Tour. Internationally we've been to the Presidents Cup, Ryder Cup, US Masters, British Open and the BMW to name a few so you can rest assured we are fully aware and respectful of the game's traditions, etiquette and values.

As with all Australian sporting teams & individuals, we love nothing more than supporting Australia's golfers and we can't wait to get behind each & every one of them again. Support at the golf majors is not like Presidents Cup or World Cup of Golf - there's most certainly a time & place for cheering & applauding but the majors are obviously a very different affair and our support is always appropriate and highly appreciated by the Aussie & international players alike.

If you're keen to experience the Masters, no matter whether you're young or purely young in spirit, get on board with Fanatics then kick back and start preparing for your golfing trip of a lifetime!

FANATICS SOUVENIR MERCHANDISE

All of our US Masters customers receive our fantastic souvenir merchandise including commemorative golf polo shirt & golf cap plus a set of personalised Fanatics Titleist golf balls complete with your own name on each ball.

Fanatics is famous for producing some of the best merchandise in the sports travel industry and our US Masters apparel is no exception. Our customers proudly sport their new kit when teeing up at their home club after the tour, much to the envy of their fellow club members!

GOLF DAY FRIDAY 6TH APRIL

Friday is our dedicated golfing day and the chance to put your own game to the test with 18 holes at one of Augusta's best clubs. In 2017, our passengers enjoyed a sensational round at Forest Hills Golf Club, which was US$168 per person and this included green fee, cart hire and local taxes plus complimentary lunch. Reservations are available after you have booked your Fanatics US Masters package.

NON-MASTERS ATTENDEE DISCOUNT

If you are travelling with a partner, friend or family member who does not wish to attend the Masters, we are able to deduct the cost of the golf tickets/badges from their package price for some or all days. Please contact our office for prices.

I cannot praise the Fanatics enough for the professionalism of our trip. I was really impressed pre-tour with the communications and timely reply with answers to all of our questions. It was great once we arrived in LA to meet our experienced guide Dave. Our trip was well executed, but at the same time was slightly flexible to allow you to leave for the golf really early if you so wished. The golf courses that we played were excellent (Aviara & Torrey Pines). We were also lucky enough to make great friends on tour with a lovely Irish couple from the Gold Coast, both will be great friends for many years to come. Peter and I have already committed to going back with the Fanatics in 6 years time, but will have a warm up tour with the Presidents Cup in 2019 in Aussie. I thoroughly recommend the Fanatics Australia for any sporting tour.

Thank you so much for an amazing weekend at The Masters. You guys made this experience greater than we could have imagined. Attending The Masters had been Justin's dream and I couldn't have made it possible without all of you. Thanks again!

- Weekend Tour 2015

Thank you once again for a wonderful trip. Warwick and I have just returned from a few days in Vegas and some more golf (for me anyway!) We had a wonderful trip and can't thank yourself and Fanatics enough for the planning, support during the trip and the way you ensured we all enjoyed the experience.

Thank you and we will certainly recommend Fanatics to everyone else.

- 9 Night Golfers Tour 2016

My visit to The Masters was truly a wonderful experience. The course and surrounds are absolutely beautiful and not a blade of grass out of place. The whole event is really well organised, it all just flowed which is remarkable considering the number of people in attendance, and I did not hear a whinge or a moan from anyone. The highlight for me was being very close to the pin on the 2nd green on the first morning and watching Tom Watson make a beautiful birdie. He was only metres from me. It was golf at it's best, and especially about such a great ambassador of the game. Just like to say many thanks for all your help in getting me to The Masters, a truly wonderful experience.

AUGUSTA NATIONAL

WHICH DAYS SHOULD I ATTEND AUGUSTA NATIONAL?

For the majority of golf fans, doing two days at Augusta is the ideal approach and sits within realistic reach of most travelling budgets. Two days enables you to get out & explore the course and develop your bearings on your first full day, then really engross yourself in the tournament & soak up the atmosphere on your second day. Needless to mention, if you have the budget & time to join us for the full tournament then that's unbeatable!

WEDNESDAY

Wednesday is the annual Par 3 Contest and the only day you are permitted to take a camera into Augusta National. It's always a very special day as some of the former greats of the game tee up alongside today's stars, the player's wives & children join in as caddies, and the crowd share an up close & personal afternoon with the best in the business.

THURSDAY

Thursday is championship opening day and with anticipation riding high it's always a special atmosphere.

SATURDAY & SUNDAY

Saturday & Sunday sees the field cut to 60-odd contenders and the stakes raised for those within reach of the top of the leaderboard. Mornings give you the chance to follow your favourites bidding to make their move whilst the afternoons' focus shifts to the final few pairings.

Note that on Friday, primarily for those staying the full six nights in Augusta, you have the option of either: joining our Fanatics Golf Day at Augusta's Forest Hills GC; purchasing a Friday badge for the Masters (call us for a quote); or enjoying a relaxing free day in Augusta.

WHAT IS THE SPECTATOR VIEWING LIKE AT AUGUSTA NATIONAL?

If there's one thing that everyone comments on when they first attend Augusta National, it's how vast and undulating the terrain is around the course. This helps make Augusta National one of the best viewing courses in world golf and infinitely more spectator friendly than most British Open venues for example. Our experienced US Masters reps are on hand to give you the best possible advice on how to plan your days, as well as share their insight and experience on each & every hole around the course.

Another unique feature of Augusta National is its folding chair policy. Available for just $30, your folding chair may be set up within any one of the many chair-only sections around the course. The chairs are available to purchase every day of the tournament (i.e. they never sell out) and whilst it's not everyone's cup of tea, it's a great option for those who like to sit tee or greenside and watch the field filter through. Your Fanatics tour reps will give you the best advice on where & how to set up your chair, particularly on the 18th.

FLIGHTS TO THE USA + GETTING TO AUGUSTA

Fanatics is a fully registered travel agent & able to cater for all your international flight needs in conjunction with your Masters package.

In terms of getting to Augusta, by far the the cheapest option is to fly into Atlanta Airport (230km from Augusta) or Columbia Airport (110km), then take a shuttle or hire a car and self-drive to Augusta. The roads are great and directions very simple using sat-nav.

A shuttle from Atlanta Airport to Augusta will cost circa $350 for up to 4 passengers. Local bus services are an even cheaper option.

Flights in & out of Augusta Airport (AGS) are more expensive around Masters time and most require a change at Atlanta or Charlotte, if coming in from LA for example. US Airways and Delta are the two main airlines with regular services into AGS. Upon arrival at AGS it's approx 13 miles/$50 taxi ride to the hotel or Augusta National.

Once you've made your tour booking with Fanatics we will happily assist with booking your travel in & out of Augusta.

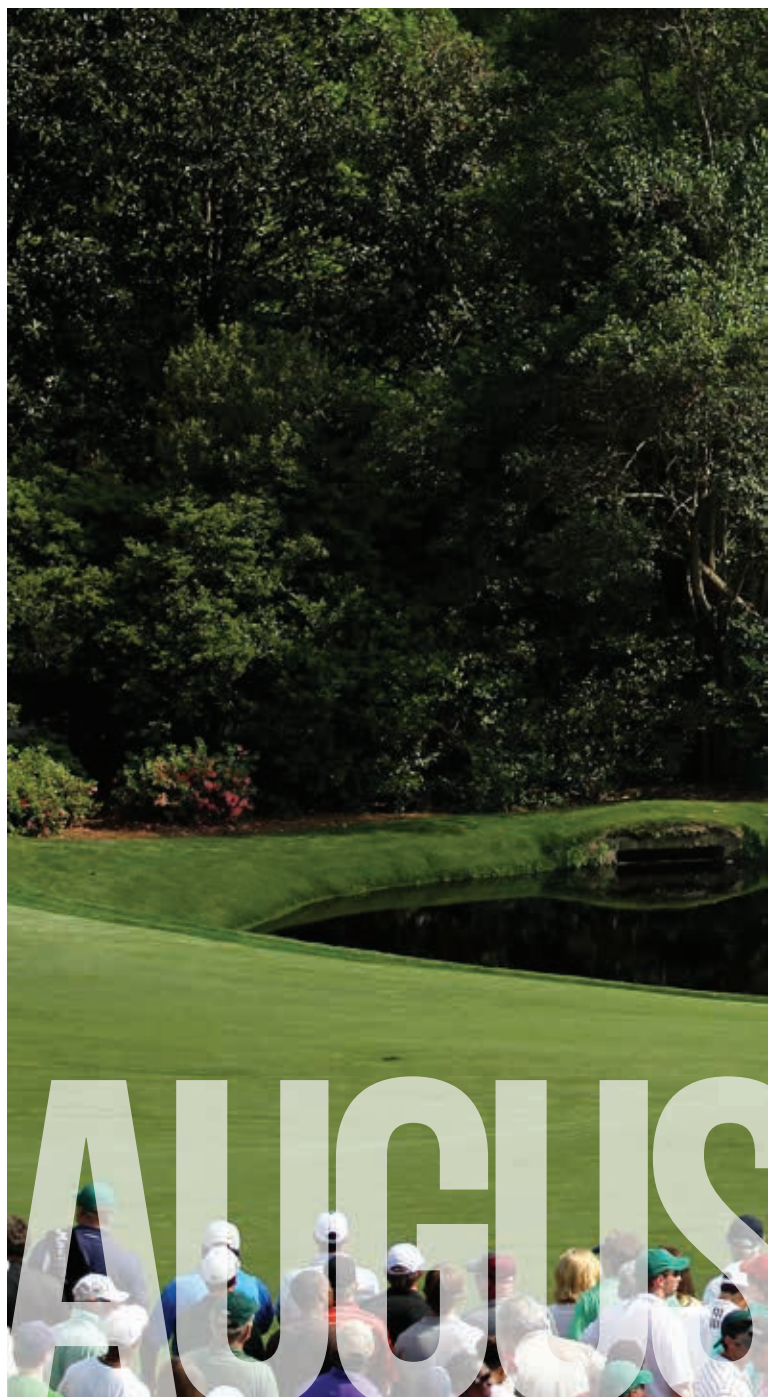

US MASTERS ENTRY 'BADGE'

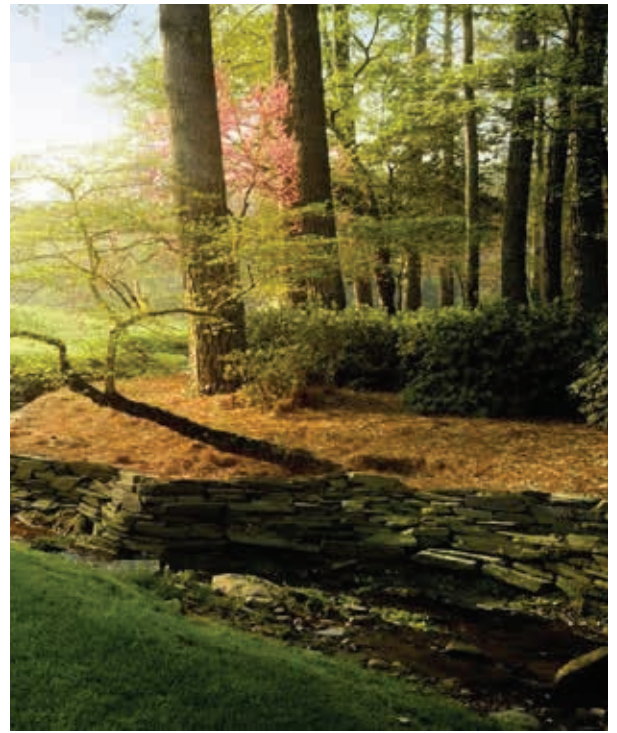

Unlike most sporting events, aside from a tiny number of oversubscribed ballot tickets, there are essentially no public tickets for the Masters championship days - entry is by 'badge'. Nor does the event have any visible corporate sponsors, marquees, private suites, advertising boards, etc.

The 40,000 people who walk through the gates of Augusta National each day during Masters week are not considered fans, nor are they a crowd or even a gallery. They are "patrons" who have the privilege of attending the event and adhering to the club's high standards of etiquette.

To highlight this point, CBS commentator Jack Whitaker made the mistake of referring to a patron gallery as a "mob" during the 1966 telecast. He wasn't invited back.

Badges allowing entry to Augusta National are the property of "patrons", many of whom have held their entitlement for many decades. Badges entitle the patron the privilege of accessing the course during the Masters. Patrons are permitted to nominate who can use their allocated badges pending the signing of an agreement regarding the nature of use plus acknowledgement of the rules implemented by Augusta National Golf Club regarding use of the badge. Strict rules apply to ensure all patrons are appropriately behaved and to ensure the safe & punctual return of the badge immediately following attendance on your concluding day.

SHUTTLE SERVICE

Our private 10 minute coach ride to Augusta National operates from the HoJo hotel each morning then back again each evening and is included in your Fanatics package price. Upon return to the hotel each evening we enjoy complimentary beers, wine and nibbles together before heading to the nearby bar/restaurants serving typically hearty US cuisine plus local & imported beers, each located within seconds walk of the hotel and providing excellent quality & value.
